

Grade 11 April 2, 2020

Happy Thursday!

Hope you are all well and keeping occupied.

Keep working on your Vector Assignments, they were assigned beforehand. They were due last week but I still have a number outstanding. Share the solution with me either via email or google docs. If you take photos make sure they are clear. Any questions feel free to email me. Get these done. They are part of your midterm mark. Check your school email and tell your friends in class to check theirs. I have sent out an invite to a google classroom in anticipation of next week. I will start sending out work on Monday.

In addition, if you want to get a jump on next weeks actual work read pg 151-173 about forces.

Yesterday's trivia answer was "Iceland". No one answered.

Today's trivia question is "In 1781, what was the first planet to be discovered using the telescope?" First person to email me the correct answer gets today's bonus mark.

Stay safe and healthy. Check back tomorrow.

Miss T.
