

Grade 11 March 25, 2020

Good day,

Hope you are all well.

Keep working on your Vector Assignments, they were assigned beforehand. They are due this week so try to get them in. Share the solution with me either via email or google docs. If you take photos make sure they are clear. Any questions feel free to email me.

Another great resource is your textbook to keep you occupied. I highly recommend Chapter 4 which starts on pg 118.

Yesterday's trivia rebus answer was "You are full of baloney". Again no one claimed this bonus.

Today's trivia question is "In 1796 Edward Jenner developed the vaccination for what disease?" First person to email me the correct answer gets today's bonus mark.

Stay safe and healthy.

Miss T.

"So, Professor Jenkins!... My old nemesis!... We meet again, but this time the advantage is mine! Ha! Ha! Ha!"
